

Welcome to the First All of Us Newsletter

It's been a busy time for the All of Us team. In addition to beginning Beta testing the program, we are reaching out to new community partners, and are touring the country with the All of Us Journey, a traveling educational exhibit.

ABOUT THE JOURNEY

Your Questions Answered

If I join All of Us, will it change my health care?

No. All of Us is a research program. It is not medical care. You can keep your current health care team even if you decide to join All of Us.

EXPLORE THE FAQ >

Behind the Scenes at Mayo Clinic

We are creating the largest health data resource ever. To support the collection and storage of blood and urine samples, we have partnered with the Mayo Clinic, which has created a specialized facility just for All of Us biosamples.

WATCH VIDEO >

Meet the All of Us Chief Engagement Officer

Dr. Dara Richardson-Heron has spent more than 20 years leading health, wellness, and social justice programs. She shares why she's so excited about being part of the All of Us team.

WATCH VIDEO >

Our Beta Testing Phase is in Full Swing

We began Beta testing in June. Not sure what Beta means? Let All of Us Director Eric Dishman explain why this phase is so important.

WATCH VIDEO >